Mathieu-Keating Wedding.

Henry Mathieu, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathieu, of this city, and Miss Mary J. Keating, a sister of Dr. W. P. Keating, of this city, were married at 9 o'clock Wednesday with a solemn nuptial high mass in St. James' church, South Manchester. Rev. W. J. McGarr, pastor of the church, was the celebrant of the mass and was assisted by Rev. Arthur DeBruyckere of this city as deacon and Rev. Father Healey of South Manchester as sub-deacon. Paul S. Keating, a brother of the bride, was master of ceremonies.

The bride was attractively gowned in white tulle, with medallion applique, wore a wreath and veil and carried an ivory prayer book. Miss Nora Mathieu, a sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. She wore wisteria messaline trimmed with white silk net and a white picture hat with white willow plumes. Dr. W. P. S. Keating of this city was best man.

St. James' church full choir assisted in the service, the bride having been a member. The music was arranged by the choir. During the offertory Miss Mary Ave Maria was effectively rendered by Arthur Keating. Edward Taylor sang "O Salutaris" expressively.

The bride received many handsome and useful gifts in cut glass, silver and linen. Among those to attend the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Mathieu, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mathieu and daughter Mildred, the Misses Nora and Marjorie Mathieu, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Comstock, Mrs. Margaret Lafleur of Norwich.

A breakfast was served at the home of the bride, 4 Elm street, following the ceremony at the church. Mr. and Mrs. Mathieu left for a week's honeymoon in New York and will be at home at 36 Pleasant street, this city, about Nov. 1st. Mr. Mathieu is employed as a carload of steel rails was unloaded Wednesday and distributed at intervals along Main street to be used where the street is to be paved.

William Thompson, who has been employed in the local plant of the American Thread company for the past year, has resigned and will enter Phillips-Exeter academy at Exeter, N. H., next Monday to prepare for college. Mr.

Thompson is one of the best all around athletes turned out of the Windham High school in recent years and the past season captured the strong Thread City Cyclers' basketball quintette. He is a good baseball player, having pitched on the Windham High team for a couple of seasons, and is also a good football player, although a trifle light.

Perfecting Paper Spool.

Allen Hubbard, who was here for a long time, working for the American Thread company in perfecting a paper spool, has returned to his home in Chicago, Ill., after being the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hastings of Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hartmann, Jr., and daughter Irene of Rockville, were recent guests of relatives in this city.

OBITUARY.

A. A. Latham.

Hon. M. F. Latham was stricken with a shock at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, Sept. 4th, at his home in Phoenixville and died within three hours, conscious to the last. He was 80 years of age.

Mr. Latham is survived by a widow, Sarah M., and two sons, Oliver H., who is a graduate of Boston University, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Latham, who is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. Latham was always prominent in the affairs of Eastford, serving on its board of selectmen for a number of terms and a member of the board of assessors for two terms and justice of the peace for several years.

For a period of more than thirty years he had been a member of the board of selectmen and most of the time had acted in the capacity of chairman of the board.

Since 1884 Mr. Latham had been postmaster at Phoenixville. Mr. Latham also represented the town of Eastford in the legislature in 1884 and served on the committee on fisheries during that session. In 1897 he was senator from the Sixteenth district and served as chairman of the committee on agriculture. He was also a delegate to the constitutional convention in 1901.

In the social and civic side of the town he was also very prominently identified, being a charter member of the Christian Lake grade of Eastford, and had passed all the chairs. Served as secretary of Quinebaug Pomona, was vice president of the state board of agriculture when ex-Governor Cook was president and at the time of his death was chairman of the school board and second selectman of Eastford.

Henry Cady, 73, died at his home in South Coventry Wednesday evening of Bright's disease. He was shoe clerk in one of the leading city stores.

Pokes Fun at Explorers.

Ex-Alderman James Haggerty's show window attracted considerable attention Wednesday. According to a placard he exhibits the pole found at the north pole. A weather beaten scapular covered with hydrogyls, phonetic spelling and the national flag, the pole is conspicuous with the placard below announcing: "Latitude 92.47 minutes, longitude 0 degrees, North Pole, Sodom, Apr. 11, 1909. J. Haggerty, Pat Men's Club, Willimantic, Conn. I send piece of North Pole, use exhibit in show window so my fellow citizens may see what the pole looks like. Please ship me gallon of tallow and quart of old rye, yours for a square meal—Peary."

In corner of the window is an empty ten-pound shell with the inscription: "The brass tube where Cook hid his proofs."

Various Interests.

Attorney James May Sullivan, who was the leading attorney for the defense in the Barbara murder case two years ago in the first trial that resulted in a disagreement by the jury, was in town Wednesday calling on friends.

Robert Lawrence of Chestnut Hill, Mansfield, has entered the employ of a local electrical contractor.

Manager John H. Gray lost the end of his right thumb Wednesday morning when he was assisting in handling the rails at the trolley for burial in St. Joseph's cemetery. He went to St. Joseph's hospital, where the injured member was dressed.

To Lay Heavier Rails.

A carload of steel rails was unloaded Wednesday and distributed at intervals along Main street to be used where the street is to be paved.
